For someone who has everything

In a bind for Christmas?

So tomorrow's Christmas, and, as usual, you've put off shopping till the last minute.

Oh, sure, the kids' gifts were bought a long time ago, then wrapped and hidden in the far reaches of the darkest closet to be aired briefly tomorrow before breaking.

Aunt Annie's perfume was a cinch. Ditto Uncle Elmer's tie.

Yes, you, too succumbed to "Pong," Walter Cronkite's nemesis in the battle for the Nielsen needle. It was more expensive than last year's Pet Rock, but it occupies their minds and frees the spirit — namely yours.

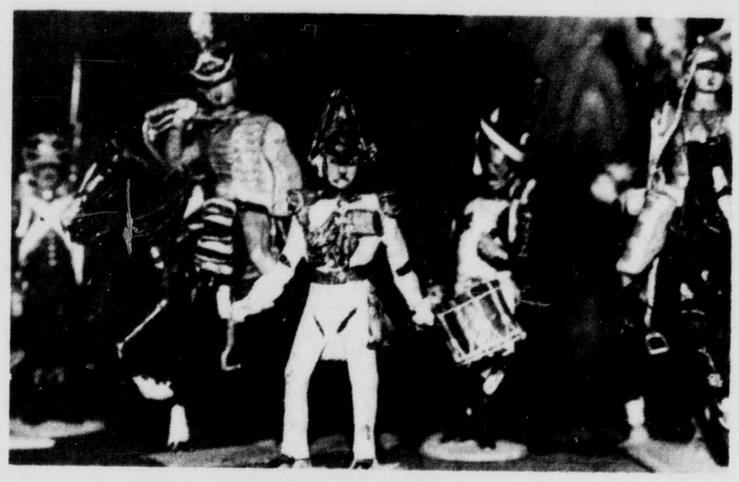
But you say that someone special has everything? The complete spouse? Wind up, pat on head once or twice a year and it performs? Needs little or no maintenance?

Ha! Beneath that calm, sober exterior lurks RENAISSANCE PERSON, whose heart longs for the finer accouterments that make life worth living.

"Pong," quite simply, is gauche.

What he needs is . . . top hat and silver tipped cane. Very haute couture, these ageless gems from an era of elegance, especially when packed in the rugged, leather traveling case.

Jim and Sue Hacker have all of this and more at The Caboose, their Pleasanton antique shoppe.



Bolkinski

But he already has the Fred Astaire affect? Then complement it with a turn of the century stereopticon and baker's dozen showings of the high life.

A collector? Then by all means, honor her with the complete (almost) cast of "War and Peace." Prince Bolkonski, Nicholai Rostov and a handful of hussars present striking figures. But alas, Count Bezukhov and Natasha are omitted from this epic in miniature.

For the child in all of us, the Hacker's offer a monumental hook 'n ladder, circa 1926. This $210 gem will warm any hearth.

Dubliners need not fear a vacuum of cultural esoterica.

"La fleur que tu m'avais jetee" from the finale of the second act of Bizet's "Carmen," a gold medallion bicentennial treasure of the La Scala opera, is available from Jim and Bev Legan at their Amador Valley Boulevard shoppe.

Something of substance? How about one troy ounce of 999.5-plus fine gold minted by Engelhard of Germany? It would have cost $133 yesterday. But since the price of gold fluctuates with the waves of fortune, you could have a bargain today.

Something for her den? A "trader's dollar," circa 1874, better known among 19th century China merchants as the "opium dollar."

Landauer played a "noteworthy role" in negotiating the Peaceful Nuclear Explosions Treaty and an international Landauer played a "noteworthy role" in negotiating the Peaceful Nuclear Explosions Treaty and an international agreement "which enhanced physical security and safeguards of sensitive nuclear material and technology."

He has worked in the nuclear weapons program since joining the Lab 18 years ago, and is currently deputy leader of A-Division, a major nuclear design unit.

Valley Campus unveils bright future

Leo A. Meyer and Associates of Hayward have been hired by the South County Community College District to serve as consultants on a career vocational center for the Chabot College Valley Campus.

The Meyer firm was appointed at a fee not to exceed $15,000 by the South County board earlier this week. They will serve as consultants from Jan. 3 through March 31.

Also unveiled Wednesday were future program and course objectives, the former being complete two-year offerings leading to an Associate of Arts degree.

Among the latter to be offered computer maintenance, communications maintenance technology (to be offered in the fall of 1977), business management and accounting, and computer technology. Chabot Valley Campus now offers a complete program in basic electronics.

Among the individual courses to be scheduled are those in administration of justice, fire science, horticulture, and early childhood education. These will be offered as day classes.

"We've come to the point where we either go into facility or program planning development or we'll make no progress," Dr. Barbara Mertes, Dean of the Valley Campus, said in outlining future program, course and facility development plans Wednesday.

Course under consideration — and Dr. Mertes emphasized they are just under consideration at this point — are those dealing with advertising, auto technology, drafting, fashion merchandising, graphics and print - making, occupational safety and health, horticulture, leisure services management (recreation classes and health counseling), management aide (designed for middle management personnel), photography, public relations, welding and scientific programming.

Dr. Mertes, along with Dr. Charles Brydon of the Chabot Valley administration, also unveiled plans for a possible national pilot program currently designated "Science, Industry and Technology."

The project is a cooperative one linking Chabot, Kaiser Institute of Technology in Pleasanton and General Electric-Vallecitos.

DUBLIN — A tree - shaded entrance has been added to the regional parkland at Camp Parks between Pleasanton and Dublin.

East Bay Regional Park District directors Tuesday approved payment of $51,700 for expansion of the 462 - acre park, which had been landlocked behind private and U.S. government property.

Mrs. Marjorie Koller of Sacramento owned the 3.8 acres of shady lands along Tassajara Creek which EBRPD took to use as access to the park. The $44,000 purchase price included a custom - built mobile home on the property, a footbridge over the creek and other miscellaneous improvements.

EBRPD also paid $6,000 to another landowner on Tassajara Road, W.F. Alger, for eight - tenths of an acre adjoining the Koller property.

EBRPD board president John J. Leavitt of Alameda said the mobile home may be used for a security residence or for offices at another EBRPD facility. The park has not yet been improved, but is open for hiking; details from the EBRPD staff in Oakland, 531 - 9300.

Where to find Yule esoteria

This specially minted coin was legal tender only in China, since the Dowager Empress and her minions refused to accept paper money or the standard silver of American Clipper ships.

Diligent Chinese craftsmen would delicately lift the face from the dollar, hollow out the inside, and carefully install a double - action hinge. The hollow would serve for their stash of opium.

Being very scrupulous, each village leader would certify coins with his "chop," or imprinted Chinese signature. When a coin went to a new village or provence, it would pick up a new "chop."

Well heeled coins are engraved evidence of early East - West relations.

The horse faire sould never be overlooked in the valley.

Set his eyes aglow with engraved Vogt "Silver Spurs" from Baughman's in Livermore. He'll pamper his palomino, and, perhaps, purr preciously for your prescience.

All for $125.

Or is he saddle - sore and out of action? Circle Y presents a handsome model of hefty, well-grained leather with a plush, brushed seat.

Its $569 price tag is inviting to equestrians with epicurean taste. You'll have him back in the saddle in no time.

Jews for Jesus concert

DUBLIN — The Liberated Wailing Wall, a mobile evangelistic team of Jews for Jesus, will give a special concert at Little Theatre, Dublin High School, on Sunday, Dec. 26 at 6 p.m. The concert is sponsored by Valley Christian Center.

They present a unique type of music called "Jewish Gospel," which combines lyrics about Jesus with a Jewish sound. They will also present drama to give insight into the Jews for Jesus experience. They have performed across the United States and in Israel.

Tuvya Zaretsky, leader of the group, says, "We are Jews for Jesus and while these terms seem to be mutually exclusive, we know by our own experience and historical precedence that we are truly both. Since most Jews and Gentiles find it hard to believe that one can be Jewish and a Christian, we found that we had to do more than just tell our story, so we sing it and act it out."

Stadds,uart Dauermann, music director of the group, "The result has been that comtemporary Christians who are looking for a more vital mode of worship are re-examining traditional church music. The Jewish community listens with curiosity when they hear this new yet familiar worship in song."

The Liberated Wailing Wall has released three albums, Hineni, I Am Not Ashamed, and We Were Like Dreamers. Their music is also published in songbook form by Lillenas Publishing Company.

The public is cordially invited to attend. Admission is free. For more information, call 828-4549.

The concert is free of charge and the public is invited.

Texans in concert

LIVERMORE — The A Cappella Chorus, a 44-member choral group from Lubbock Christian College in Texas, will present a religious concert consisting of spirituals, youth songs, special hymn arrangements and sacred choral selections when they appear at the Church of Christ, 4481 East Ave. starting at 7:30 p.m. on Jan. 3, 1977.

The group, under the direction of Dr. Wayne Hinds, who has been with the chorus since its beginning in 1957, will present a series of religious songs including "Ivory Palaces" arranged by Hustad, "The Beatitudes" by Wilan and "Balm in Gilead" arranged by Dawson.

During the second part of the program, the chorus will present a "Sermon in Song" entitled "You'll Never Walk Alone." It includes hymns bridged together with the narration so that the lyrics and narration present a sermonette to the listener. It will be featured with colored slides.

Also appearing with the chorus will be the Women's Octet and the Men's Quartet. The quartet recently presented concerts throughout California during the Thanksgiving holidays.

The A Cappella Chorus represents a large cross section of the Lubbock Christian College campus. The group includes freshmen through seniors, and students majoring in everything from agriculture to the ministry.

Lubbock Christian College, located on the high plains of West Texas, is a private liberal arts college that is the academic home for some 1,200 students representing 38 states and 19 foreign countries.

A time to love

There are those who say we must remove "Christ" from "Christmas" lest man in his infinite wisdom is overshadowed by a wisdom he does not understand.

There are some who are afraid to love, for in loving they must share. And sharing is a gift that does not come easy.

But in each of us, in this one season, there is a spirit a love a sharing that comes upon us, despite our protests. We respond because "everyone seems to be doing it." Some call it "faith."

All call it "Christmas."

There is, one teacher suggested, to every thing a season...

A time to be born, and a time to die; a time to plant, and a time to pluck that which is planted;

A time to weep, and a time to laugh ... a time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing;

A time to get, and a time to lose; a time to keep, and a time to cast away;

A time to love ...

This is that time. May you use it well.

Merry Christmas.

Murphy bows out

He has never been without a generous share of critics. But in 16 often - turbulent years as the First District's representative on the Alameda County Board of Supervisors, John D. Murphy has managed to survive the storms, do the job, and win every election he ever faced.

Except of course that last one. Perhaps the kindest thing that can be said of that November campaign is that Murphy lost out to some one who wanted the job more. Supervisor - elect Valerie Raymond also proved much more adept at politicking than most would have predicted.

But even in that defeat, Supervisor Murphy found no rancor, at least none that has reached print or public. He went out as the senior member of that board, and he did it with style.

Murphy never displayed more political maturity than this past week, when he twice refused to cast the majority ballot in some eleventh - hour lame - duck maneuvering by that board. He argued "it wouldn't be right" to push through such enactments when his successor was just one month away from assuming that office.

That showed class.

In 16 years in one public post, a man can generate a a lot of flack, build a legion of critics. You can also do the best job you know how, and let the flack fall where it may.

John Murphy was that kind of politician. He never really thought of being any other kind.

That costly cruise

Two items in the mail this past week that might be of particular interest, to those concerned with their budgets.

From the State Board of Equalization there is a report showing "California motorists continued to break records with gasoline consumption in October." In fact, in each of the months through 1976, Californians have driven more, burned more gas, than in that comparable month for any of the four previous years.

The second item might give us all some idea as to what this hangup on the automobile is costing us.

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency has published a booklet which shows the miles - per - gallon that might be expected from various makes and models, under different driving conditions.

If you pay 60 cents a gallon for your gas, and average a healthy 20 mpg in city and highway driving, then you spent $32.50 for each 1000 miles of travel in 1976. That's just for gas.

If your average mpg is 14 (which applies to most of us) and paying 65 cents per gallon for the stuff, then you spent $46.40 for each 1000 miles travelled. Again, that's exclusive of auto service, tires and insurance.

For the commuter who might run up 20,000 miles in a year, the cost for gasoline will run from $550 to $900, and more.

In 1977 the cost of gasoline is going up, they say. Maybe the Arabs and the environmentalists are trying to tell us something.

Editor, The Times:

My complaint is why some one has not done something about the print on the T.V. Programs.

The print is so small I can not see it. Im a Senior Citizens and I wear glasses. Do you think you could ask the printer if he could possibly try to have the printing done so adults can read it.

Crossing mess

Editor, The Times:

We have all watched with varying concerns the multi - million dollar relocation project of the railroad tracks through Livermore for the past few years. Now as possibly the physical portion of the project nears completion are the City Fathers going to walk away from the horrible grade crossings that remain?

Every street that the rail lines cross in the city, from 1st. Street to Murrieta is a disgrace. I shudder with amazement (both physical and mental) every time I have to drive across one of these crossings. The crossings on "P" Street probably would take some kind of a prize. The two crossings that terminate at the wall of the Safeway Store are unique. What their proposed or remaining use would be is beyond my imagination. The old unused S.P. crossing on 1st. Street is a real thrill to cross.

How the Livermore Taxpayers can allow these conditions to exist while the city council (and Mayor) publicly pass out plaudits and pat each other on their collective backs for such an outstanding job is difficult to understand.

I would suggest each and every city administrator that had any responsibility for this relocation mess take a trip over all of these crossings and then ask themselves what they feel about this outstanding project.

Save the Water

Editor, The Times:

The citizens of this area are about to lose a potentially valuable material asset which could bring monetary returns for an indefinitely long period. I refer to the treated effluent from our sewage disposal plants. It is the cause of our ill-fated Prop. U pipeline proposed for running over the hill to the Bay, and it is causing great concern among us yet, relating to what to do with the sewage effluent.

Some enterprising localities around the country have solved the problem by applying the waste water to farm lands, for a fee, resulting in the return of bountiful crops from the nutrient rich effluent. Yields from the same land after applying treated waste-water (instead of their ordinary water) have been remarkable and continuing.

We owe it to ourselves to insist of our officials that they investigate this method in detail with an open mind, and not just give it a quick cursory appraisal. In other words we should urge them to appraise it with a positive attitude, and especially to compare long term results.

Now is the time to switch to this disposal method which makes our sewage more nearly an asset instead of a complete liability, if an unbiased study proves it to be financially applicable to this Tri-valley area.

Francis B. Headley
Pleasanton

Council agenda

Editor, The Times:

The highest efficiency of government is achieved when the citizens become directly involved in their government. It is toward this goal of increased efficiency of government that our efforts are directed and we request our City Council to change the order of their agenda at council meetings to permit a maximum participation of citizens.

The very last item on the present agenda is the City Manager's Report. He is the one individual directly responsible for our city employees, policies and procedures, and yet his words are presented to the council when most of their constituents have retired ... due to the lateness of the hour.

We request of our Council, for the overall good of the city, to modify the present agenda ... 1)Call to Order: 2) Salute to Flag; 3) Adoption of previous minutes; 4) City Manager's Report; 5) Staff Report; 6) Matters initiated by Council; 7) Open Public Forum; 8) Public Hearings, etc. ...

This change will permit the citizens the opportunity of hearing all public ideas; hence, the opportunity to comment upon them or ask questions concerning these ideas. ...

It is not sufficient to ask the attendees to participate in their government at only election time, or the need for tax increases or bond passage. We, the taxpayers, must have more opportunities to insure the proper functioning of our being represented and a reordering of our City Council's agenda must be done.

round the town

I wanted to write about gifting and other things we find uplifting,

But the socks that you sent me last year have been slipping e'er since, my dear.

(And a malaise I fear is now catching — those socks since are rarely matching!)

That tie of red, purple and off - yellow is more suited to a swingier fellow.

So too with the vest that you sent,
designed to go places I dasn't

Now please don't think I'm not happy with gifts that you send, cool and snappy,

But sometimes, despite all your kindness,
I'd swear that you had color blindness!

Gifts, cards and the "Joys of the Season"
come flowing my way with no reason;

The can - opener thing is a dilly, but who do I know back in Philly?

Prints of old trucks from The Teamster,
are a gift to be treasured, seems t'her,

"I'll hang them all right by my sofa."
(I wonder who signed them, "Love, Hoffa"?)

See's Candy are a welcome presentation,
But from the County TB Association??

Now take Jimmy Carter, dear gent, soon to be our new president.

An inaugural invite he mails me
(plus the twenty five dollar door fee)

But to D.C. he offers no transit, nor the dress in which She might dance it!

("Dear Jim I can't really hack it,
Inaugurals are way out of my bracket.")

If I must get a gift from my president,
I'll take part of the one that Bing sent to Gerald, that hacker sensational, to play in the Crosby Invitational!

But since Ford will be needed in Washington
(at inaugurals he's always the stand in)

For me it would be truly American to take Gerald's place in the Pro Am!

It is thoughts such as these (not underwear!)
that friends really true would be apt to share.

So if send me you must at this season
(and I've had offers to travel afar)

Please make it a gift with some reason
(I'd settle for Pebble, and par.)

Chabot's future

Possibly the most positive force, education-wise, in the coming year will be expansion of the physical facilities and program offerings at Chabot College Valley Campus.

The ground work is laid and much of the planning complete.

This was verified at a brief press gathering with Dr. Barbara Mertes, Dean of the Chabot Valley Campus, and Dr. Charles Brydon on Wednesday.

Chabot Valley Campus' thrust is in keeping with, if not ahead of, the times. Course and program offerings now and in the near future are designed to not only accomodate the student going on to a four-year college but the ever-growing number who see the community college as a specialized training grounds, culmination of the formal education process or re-training for new or more advanced job markets.

As presented in a news article this week, Chabot College Valley Campus is moving more toward truly serving the community with programs such as the "Science, Industry and Technology" pilot introduced Wednesday.

At the base of this is a need for major valley industries to train those in the local job market for positions that particular firm can offer— in this instance Kaiser Center for Technology and General Electric-Vallecitos.

While the initial program beginning in 1977-78 will handle 15 to 20 students, it is none the less exciting and Chabot's acknowledgement to the community that the leadership realizes what is needed.

It is a small beginning but a significant one.

The role of the community college has become vastly more significant since our days at College of San Mateo. No longer is it necessarily a "holding pattern" for 17, 18 and 19-year olds until they get a job, married or decide to continue on in college.

In the first place, the student body is made up of a large percentage of persons in their 20s, 30s, and 40s — and older.

Chabot Valley Campus has scheduled complete two-year programs leading to Associate of Arts degrees in the fields of electronics, computer maintenance, business management and accounting, and communications maintenance technology.

Under consideration are courses in auto technology, drafting, fashion merchandising, graphics and print making, horticulture, photography, public relations, welding and advertising.

All of these are directly related to specific jobs — as opposed the "schedule of classes" a decade or more ago that was heavy on book courses (Literature, political science, languages) and devoid of practical courses and avenues to specific career fields.

The community college has come a long way. Chabot is meeting the challenge of the 70s and 80s and that is why we believe Chabot College Valley Campus may prove the most dynamic force in education in the coming year.

Delicious!

The "Great American Steak House" has come of age.

It was born in Hawaii in the early '60s, and nurtured through adolescence in — Where else? — California. We, of course, spread its more successful siblings through the East Coast.

But the chickens (I can't resist a pub, err, pun) have come home to roost. Right down the street and up your block — in Danville.

Kudos, Medals of Honour, and the coveted Gilt Edged S.O.B. Award (more on that later) to those raconteurs from whose imaginations that magnificent palace of tummy tempting delights sprang.

Did I say I liked it?

You must understand my background to appreciate the full compliment.

Great - grandfather took it upon himself to leave Europe at the close of the Franco - Prussian War. His brother, the buttons on his newly issued uniform still shiney, soon followed.

I come from a highly intelligent, very pragmatic, life loving family.

Jaksa was the name, and salooning the game down there at Fourth and Brannon, where, if oral history is to be accepted, the first of a series of pubs - cum - boarding houses went up circa 1885.

God and a handful of unnatural acts (fires and quakes, not cops) kept the clan on the move, but always South of the Slot. The last holocaust put us on "Bohunk Hill."

Son Lloyd — now he's another story — inherited Jake's trade, bounding across San Francisco and trying one brief but profitable sortie down the Peninsula. He once told me I was the best bartender he'd ever seen. But I think he was biased.

Mother failed to take up the mantle, leaving the burden to Modesty Forbids in his indebted, post-collegiate days.

Needless to say, I toasted the occasion.

Which brings us full circle to the "Great American Steak House."

Hawaii's climate was probably the most significant factor in their creation. Sun warmed lanais dusted with cool Pacific breezes were most conducive to salad bars and informal waiters. The tourists, bless their wallets, raved about the idea when they hit the mainland.

In their more naive days, waiters — they never used waitresses, the little sexists — wore sneakers, Levis and crew necked undershirts. Steaks were plopped in a puddle of dressing on an empty salad plate. You could take a bath in blue cheese if you angered the waiter.

Victoria Station, now King of the Hill, took the ball and ran like hell. Out with the slobs and in with the schmaltz.

Refectories soon banned sneakers — except for hot dog bartenders, thank you, who needed the traction — and the race was on.

At first I thought Vintage House in Orinda would prove the paradigm. The owners insisted on square nails to match the authentic redwood wine storage vats they used as paneling. The wine list wass superb, thank you again, and the prime rib served with Yorkshire Pudding and creamed spinach.

Now it's the Danville Etc. and Saloon.

I love the word "saloon." California's prudes banned it for too long. Gov. Ronnie's signing of the law that put it back in our vocabulary is the only thing I accepted of his excessively long, tiresome tenure.

But my bias toward the Danville Saloon aside, that joint is destined for greatness.

Anybody who serves a "slab of beef" as an S.O.B. has my heart, not my wallet, in mind.

Were steak houses once described in the trade as "limited menu restaurants"? Not up the block in Danville. Sixteen different entres adorn the menu, plus six combination plates and five "petite" portions.

And their "sopaipillas" (that's 'soap-ah-PEE-ahs,' Gringo) are the best this side of Bohunk Hill.

Are you into, so to speak, wine? They've got Sebastiani's literally "Nouveau," truly an august wine. Local vintner Joe Concannon's famed Petite Sirah is worth more than a plug, too.

And you talk about decor! The attention to detail outstrips the Vintage House nails. Those early California chandeliers cost a bundle. But Jack Barnette, Larry Moblad and Aileen and Jerry Carter, the sizzles behind the steaks, must have three dozen of the bloody things hanging about.

On the minus side? Well, the salad dressing — Did I say they have SPINACH salad? With crumbled egg and REAL bacon bits? — needs more oomph. Try some dill and lemon juice, group.

Speaking of juice . . . the pitcher of Margaritas serves two people three times. And they're almost as good as mine.

Jake and Lloyd would have been proud — of them and me.

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB — Is there any cure or treatment for fibrocystic disease of the breast besides surgery once or twice a year? My doctor says I have to learn to live with it. I have a mammogram once a year and just had surgery for a large mass of cysts from one breast that looked like grapes full of yellow fluid. The other breast has the same but the doctor said they were cystic so just keep a close watch on them.

I want to know what can be done and if there are any treatments or should I change doctors.

Is having the breast removed the answer or not? I can't see going to the hospital once or twice a year for surgery. I would just as soon have both breasts removed if it will put a stop to these cystic formations. This is making an emotional wreck of me. I am 44.

DEAR READER — You have a perplexing problem. However, as many as a third of adult women have fibrocystic disease (also called chronic mastitis). The amount of difficulty depends upon the extent of the disease. The recurrent formation of cysts is not dangerous although cysts can cause pain and tenderness. Symptoms are relieved some with a well-fitting brassiere and with the application of heat. A cyst or cysts can be drained with a needle.

The important point is establishing whether a woman has cysts in the breast or if there is a definite nodule that is not a cyst. If it is a nodule the question of a malignancy of the breast must be settled.

I hate to frighten you but you may make the wrong decision if you don't have the right facts. Cancer of the breast is three to five times as common in women with cystic mastitis. That is why your doctor is wisely keeping such close track of you. It is not unusual to have a biopsy or removal of an area to be sure it is a cyst and not a nodule. If the cyst can be drained and there is no residual lump then one is on safer grounds.

It is well and good to say that the important point is to tell the difference between a cyst and a definite lump, but it isn't that easy in a breast that is full of cysts. That is why a woman with a lot of these should have a breast examination by her doctor every four to six months.

Although there is a lot of discussion currently on the value and danger of mammography it is used in cases such as yours because of the high incidence of cancer and the consequences if cancer is not detected early. You should continue to rely on your doctor to advise you on how often you should have such an examination as it applies to your case.

Some doctors are now more in favor of a simple mastectomy in cases such as yours. It depends again on how much trouble it causes. In most cases however, a regular careful evaluation combined with self-examination will be adequate. In a woman with severe problems and with a family history of breast cancer the choice might be different. Talk it over with your doctor if you continue to need surgery and perhaps ask for a consultation with a specialist in gynecology.

Johnny Wonder's QUESTION CORNER

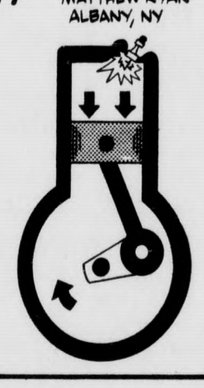
Q. "HOW DOES A CAR ENGINE PRODUCE ITS POWER?" MATTHEW RYAN ALBANY, NY

A. AN AUTOMOBILE IS POWERED BY HOT GASES FROM THE BURNING OF AN AIR-GASOLINE MIXTURE INSIDE THE ENGINE'S CYLINDERS.



© 1976 by NEA, Inc. T.M. Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.

DICK ROGERS 12/24

The automobile engine performs work by burning a mixture of gasoline vapor and air inside the engine.

An automobile engine consists of several cylinders arranged in one or two rows. Inside each cylinder is a piston. Also inside the cylinder is a spark plug.

The gasoline first goes into a carburetor where it is mixed with just the right amount of air. Next, the gas-air mixture is forced into the cylinder. The piston pushes up and squeezes the fuel mixture to the top of the cylinder.

At just the right moment, a spark from the spark plug ignites the fuel. Hot gases, formed when the fuel mixture burns, expand rapidly and give the piston a mighty push down the cylinder.

The piston turns a crankshaft that drives the wheels of the car.

At the same time, the other pistons are working in the same way. They "fire" one after another. Their pumplike action keeps the crankshaft turning.

For Friday, Dec. 24, 1976

ARIES (March 21-April 19) It won't count against you not to make all the Christmas parties today. In fact, your system may be spared some anguish if you skip a few!

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) If something nice comes your way today, take care who's listening when you talk about it. You may unwittingly hurt the feelings of another less fortunate.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Even though someone you love is out of sight, they shouldn't be out of your mind today. Let them know you're thinking of them.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) There's a valid reason that someone you're fond of may be more generous towards another than he is to you. Don't fret. You'll learn why later.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Your mate is more likely to be filled with the Christmas spirit than you are today. Just don't let on you're not altogether with it and you'll have as much fun!

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Before you get too much into the festive mood today, attend to those few little tasks. Then you can play with a clear conscience.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Circumstances may result in some being alone and feeling left out today. If you learn of such a person, make sure to include him or her in your festive plans.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) It's important to treat all members of the family with equal good grace today. Don't overindulge some while turning your back on others.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Have a good time today, but if you've absorbed too much holiday cheer, turn the keys over to someone else. You'll be glad tomorrow.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Don't let your expansive mood cause you to make promises you won't want to keep. Things may look different in the cold light of dawn.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Have a good time today, but if you've absorbed too much holiday cheer, turn the keys over to someone else. You'll be glad tomorrow.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You're the type who usually puts the welfare of others ahead of your own. Look around. There may be someone close who needs help and you are unaware of it.

your birthday

Opening lead — 8 ♠

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Sometimes a really bad break can turn out to be a blessing.

South rose with dummy's ace of spades; studied the possibilities of the hand and decided his best chance for success was a trump finesse. He played dummy's queen of trumps and East showed out.

Should he settle for down one? He really went into executive session for a while and finally saw that with a lot of luck he might still make his slam. He would risk a two or three trick set in the process, but South felt that a slim chance was better than none.

He rose with his ace of hearts, cashed his ace of diamonds, led his other diamonds, thought once more and finally played dummy's 10.

When it held he discarded his losing spade on the king of diamonds and his losing club on the queen. Then it was a simple matter to go back to trumps; knock out West's king and make the slam.

Why did South finesse that ten of diamonds? Because he could only make the contract if West had to follow to four diamond leads. If West did hold four or five diamonds the odds were that he would hold the jack and South went with the odds.

Ask the Jacobys

A Washington reader wants to know the correct opening bid with:

♠ A J x x ♥ A J x x ♦ A ♣ Q x x x.

The correct opening bid is one club. You should never open notrump with a singleton and it is best to open one club, rather than a heart or a spade with this type hand.

Head Coach Chuck Knox of the Los Angeles Rams, mindful that his team had two punts blocked by Dallas last weekend, demonstrates face - to - stomach blocking technique to members of the Rams' punting unit during a workout at Long Beach. The Rams face Minnesota in the NFC championship game Saturday.

Madden knows best in NFL

OAKLAND — Coach John Madden, taking his mind off the invading Pittsburgh Steelers for a moment, paid tribute to quarterback Ken Stabler for taking the Oakland Raiders this far in the National Football League playoffs.

"It will be a shame if the left-hander doesn't make All-Pro," Madden said Thursday. Then it was back to the business of Sunday's American Conference championship game with the Steelers.

As for Stabler, the southpaw who led NFL quarterbacks with his gaudy statistics which included 27 touchdown passes, he insists, "Individual recognition has never meant that much to me."

Besides, he's been All-Pro once, in 1974 when he also was named the NFL's Player of the Year by The Associated Press.

"The All-Pro quarterback will be the guy whose team wins at Pasadena in the Super Bowl, as far as I'm concerned," says Stabler.

The former Alabama star is in his fourth season as the Raiders' starting quarterback and the team has advanced to the American Football Conference championship game a fourth straight season. Miami won in 1973 and the Steelers claimed the AFC title the past two seasons.

"I'm getting tired of hearing the same question every year: why can't the Raiders win the big one? It would be great not having to hear that again the next six months," he said.

Then he added, "Of course, I suppose there's pressure on the Steelers, too. They probably get tired of people asking if they're going to win the Super Bowl again."

The Steelers, despite play on Oakland's field, are favored to win Sunday and go on to become the first team to win three straight Super Bowl titles. If the defense can hold down Stabler and his super trio of receivers — Cliff Branch, Fred Biletnikoff and Dave Casper — at least half the battle will be won.

Mark van Eeghen became the third 1,000-yard rusher in Oakland history this season. But in several games, including the 24-21 playoff victory over New England last week, the Raiders had to rely mainly on Stabler's passing.

Pittsburgh had the AFC's best rushing attack, with Franco Harris and Rocky Bleier each topping 1,000 yards. Both starting running backs nursed injuries this week and may not be at full strength Sunday, however.

Quarterback Terry Bradshaw, All-Pro by Stablers' standards the past two years since he's been a Super Bowl winner, looked like one last Sunday as he hurled for three touchdowns and 264 yards in the 40-14 playoff victory over Baltimore.

Stabler, who played only 12 regular season games, edged the Colts' Bert Jones for the NFL passing title by completing 66.7 per cent of his passes — second best mark in NFL history — for 2,737 yards.

Warriors lose in Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE — Milwaukee's Bob Dandridge scored 16 of his 22 points in the second half Thursday night, leading the Bucks over Golden State 112-103 for their third successive National Basketball Association victory.

Gus Williams and Rick Barry rallied the Warriors from eight points down early in the fourth quarter to within 100-99 and 104- 103. However, Dandridge connected to make it 106-103 and trigger a run of eight consecutive points by the Bucks, who boosted their record to 7-25.

Williams finished with 26 points and Barry with 16.

The Bucks had led 100-93, but the Warriors scored the next six points before Milwaukee launched its strong finish.

Two free throws by Swen Nater gave the Bucks a 108-103 cushion with 44 seconds left. The Warriors then failed to pass the ball inbounds, giving the Bucks possession.

Dickey breaks ankle

OAKLAND (AP) — The injury to Derrick Dickey, Golden State Warriors' forward injured Tuesday night in San Antonio, was diagnosed Thursday as a broken ankle.

The Warriors said Dickey will be forced to miss about six weeks of the National Basketball Association season. The ankle will be in a cast at least four weeks.

There was no immediate decision on a roster replacement for the 6-foot-7 forward who had been playing some of the best ball of his NBA career the past few weeks.

Chabot's big future

Kaiser, G.E. and other labs will provide students with practical experience while Chabot Valley Campus will give students the academics necessary.

The potentially national-model program is being developed in cooperation with Jim Murphy, associate director research at Kaiser, and Jeanne Ellington, personnel director at G.E.

Dr. Mertes said it is expected the 15 to 20 students who will initially take part will spend the first three school quarters in class.

Planning is based on research done by Murphy, utilizing feedback on kinds of skills needed to work at firms such as Kaiser.

Dr. Mertes also noted progress to date on three buildings scheduled as part of Phase III construction.

The phase will include a "multi-use" room for theatrical performances, physical education, and will include shower facilities for men and women.

The first project to be started, however, was a 175-space parking lot.

Also to be built are an addition to the current science center and the first increment of the massive Independent Learning Center. The latter, according to Dr. Mertes, will be the heart of the Independent Learning Program on campus. It will house a counseling and career development training center.

Ford aide visits

Gregory J. Newell, a staff assistant to President Gerald Ford, will be guest of the San Ramon - Amador Valley Exchange Club at their meeting Thursday, Dec. 30 at the Hungry Hunter in Pleasanton.

Since his appointment to the White House staff in May of 1975, Newell's responsibilities have included the detailed coordination of all presidential travel, domestic, international, official, political and personnel.

Newell is home for the Christmas holidays visiting his parents Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Newell of Hayward.

Newell has also coordinated the travel activities of all White House elements involved when the President travels. These include the U.S. Secret Service, the White House Communications Agency, the Press Corps, and the Military Office of President, editorial research and the State Department.

They've been here all along

DUBLIN — Amador Valley Moving and Storage located at 6855 Dublin Blvd. has expanded its business operations.

It was incorrectly reported in the Dec. 17 edition of The Times as being a brand new business. Actually, it has been in operation for the past six-and-one-half years, according to owner Vern Swiers.

The expansion is in regard to long-distance moving. Swiers recently signed a contract with Atlas Van Lines. This contract allows Amador Valley Moving and Storage to work in conjunction with Atlas on out - of - state, long distance moves.

The Times regrets the error.

Enrollment rising

Chabot College Registrar Carlo Vecchiarelli reports that preliminary registration figures indicate the day enrollment at both the Hayward and Valley campuses will be significantly higher for Winter, 1977, as compared with Winter, 1976.

Pre-registration for the Valley Campus shows an increase of 40 per cent — about 275 students. At the Hayward campus, the increase is 19 per cent or about 1,000 students.

Associate Dean of Instruction Lee Hinckley states that though pleased with the increase in registrations, there is still a wide variety of classes open for student enrollment.

Some classes with enrollment openings are:

Economics 5 (Economic history of the U.S.), History 24A (History of Portugal), History 24B (Portuguese - American history), Psychology 1 (General psychology), Georgraphy 1 (Introduction to physical geography), Astronomy 1 (Introduction to astronomy), Biology 21 (East African ecology), Chemistry 31 (Introduction to college chemistry), and Geology 10 (Introduction to geology).

Also, English 103 (Writing for non - writers), English 124 (Spelling), Speech 31B (Broadcasting and the public), Drama 47E (Acting), Drama 30 (Drama workshop), Drama 42 (Costume design and makeup), Music 6 (Essentials of music — for students other than music majors), Music 34B (Study of woodwinds), Music 35B (Study of brass), Music 38B (Study of piano), Philosophy 12A (logic).

Late registration for evening and Saturday classes at the Valley Campus will be held Tuesday, Dec. 28 from 6 to 9 p.m.

General late registration for all classes in all locations will be on the Hayward campus in Building 500 on Wednesday, Dec. 29, from 9 a.m. until noon.
